

A New Approach To Feeding Your Mare & Foal

With so many stud mixes on the market today it can be hard to choose which is the right one for your horse or pony to help give them the best start in life. Rowen Barbary Horse Feeds have come up with an innovative feed that is particularly suited to broodmares lacking in condition and for those, especially the smaller breeds and young foals that struggle to eat and digest the more traditional coarse mix.

ReadyMash Extra with its milk powders and glucose fed as a soft moist feed (warm if you want too) is ideal for those that struggle to chew and digest the traditional coarse mixes and to help encourage any young foals to take their first bite. The inclusion of glucose will aid the mare in a speedy recovery after birth whilst the lactose from the milk powders will help keep the mare and foal in top condition. Also included is a high level of essential oils, which will help meet the demands of the lactating mare and developing foal and provide a form of slow release energy. When soaked ReadyMash Extra expands by up to 60% and this along with the high fibre content helps to encourage slow rates of digestion. This is also ideal to create a smooth transition from milk to feed and forage for the foal and to use into weaning to help minimise the post weaning slump often seen. As it is also fully supplemented with vitamins and minerals it helps to meet the nutritional needs of both mare and foal.
