

Is Your Horse A Worrier?

Some horses find it very hard to relax, often getting upset at the slightest change of routine making it very hard for them to hold any condition.

Anne Forster contacted Rowen Barbary to tell us about her daughter, Jane Anne Dobinson and Fair and Square.

Fair and Square, or to use his stable name Harry was a worrier. Anne explained that no matter how much food Harry was fed he never kept the weight on. He worried because there was a horse in the next field, then he worried when it was taken in. Everything bothered him and Anne thought that they would never get him into show condition, until they found ReadyMash.

There is no miracle ingredient in ReadyMash that helped Harry, just a very simple idea of providing the horse with a high fibre feed that is well balanced for oil, protein, energy and essential vitamins and minerals.

Picture 1: Jane Anne Dobinson riding Fair and Square.

The high fibre levels that are found in ReadyMash are sourced through 'Super Fibres' that provide an excellent source of slow release energy, helping encourage slow rates of digestion through out the hindgut whilst maintaining gut health.

These high fibre levels in ReadyMash have helped to settle Harry whilst promoting outstanding condition. Jane's success with Harry in 2009 speaks for itself with wins at Leicestershire County, Otley, Northumberland (also taking the side saddle championship) Midlands County, North Yorkshire County, Royal Highland, Royal Welsh, Boarder Union and the British Elite, also taking the championship.