

Show Condition

There are a number of important factors to consider when producing a show champion no matter what breed of horse. Feeding affects the condition and fitness of your horse and therefore it is imperative to choose the correct diet to obtain optimum body condition whether competing or showing. Achieving both physical and mental fitness requires a combination of nutrition and training.

It is vital that your horse is given a fully balanced ration with all essential vitamins and minerals, if you select a compound feed this will be formulated with the necessary nutrient levels for the type of work it is intended to provide for.

Rowen Barbary Horse Feeds have a number of products suitable when preparing for the show ring. Show 'n' Glow is an excellent mix when trying to achieve the best possible condition from your horse as it is high in oil giving the horse a natural shine. With added biotin ensuring excellent hoof condition and Yeasacc giving the added benefit of keeping a healthy gut function when the horse is put under stressful conditions such as travelling and the show atmosphere.

ReadyMash Extra is a first-rate complete feed designed to be fed soaked, containing excellent energy sources that aid in improving the condition of your horse. ReadyMash Extra is extremely palatable encouraging shy feeders to eat and increase their fluid uptake especially for those under stressful situations such as staying away from home when competing.

In the event of a horse lacking condition there are a number of products within the Sumo Supplements range to help achieve show condition. Sumo Muscle Builder (MB) is a unique blend of ingredients that has been specifically designed as a concentrate to be used as part of daily diet for rapid improvement in horses that have lost condition or for improving overall muscle development for show and working horses. When the level of condition has improved Rowen Barbary suggest reducing the quantity of Sumo MB and introducing Sumo Natural Energy Premix, this is an extremely valuable feed for all horses from youngsters to show horses when trying to perfect the condition and to enrich the bloom in their coat